

Key Advice

By following these guidelines, feedback exchange can become a productive and positive experience for both the giver and receiver of feedback.

Guidelines for giving feedback

1. Be specific and objective

Focus on the specific aspects of the drawing and the qualities of the character, and provide constructive criticism based on objective observations.

2. Be respectful and empathetic

Use a positive tone and empathise with your peers' efforts, acknowledging their strengths and weaknesses.

3. Avoid personal attacks or criticism

Critique the work, not the person. Avoid using language that could be interpreted as a personal attack.

Guidelines for receiving feedback

1. Listen actively

Listen carefully to the feedback provided and ask clarifying questions to ensure you understand the critique.

2. Be open-minded

Be willing to consider different perspectives and feedback even if it is critical of your work.

3. Show appreciation

Thank your peers for their feedback and acknowledge any insights you gained from the feedback.

4. Avoid defensiveness

Refrain from becoming defensive or taking feedback personally. Instead, view feedback as an opportunity to learn and grow.
